

DÓRA DIVIKI

Senior project manager

Dora acts as senior project manager of Qvantor. Starting off as project manager, Dora had proven the excellent impact of her client-oriented attitude on business, while providing leading translation services in a cost effective manner to major Hungarian and foreign banks. She continued her career at a biotechnology company in London, United Kingdom, acting as assistant to the finance team and as personal assistant to the management.

Dora graduated from the Faculty of Humanities of Eötvös Loránd University in 2011 as a translator for English and French language specialising in legal and economic translation. She did also attend accounting courses in London, further strengthening her accounting background.

In addition to her native Hungarian, she is fluent in English and French.
